Playing Favorites: Miami Beach International Fashion Week 2011

Earlier this month, Natalie and I attended the 13th Annual Miami Beach International Fashion Week, in BEAUTIFUL Miami Beach. I would love to tell you it was hard work, but we had a blast!

From March 3 — March 6, 2011, the largest Hispanic and international fashion event in the nation converged upon the Miami Beach Convention Center with tons of designers, runway-walkers, and Miami's fashion elite. What came down that runway and impressed me?

I thought this dress AND the headpiece was beautiful, my friends, not liking the headpiece so much lol

My hairstylist told me, “when in Miami — wear white!” lol and you know the dress on the right is ALL me

I screamed over this dress! So simple, but awesome. The model had to take tiny steps due to the tube like nature, then at the end of the runway, she hiked it up and walked back. YES! I want one!

and...looks from my FAVORITE COLLECTION –

MARINA MARAKON

Not typically a print fan, I think this was my favorite, because I was surprised at how much I liked it! The prints were gorgeous and they looked like they feel luxurious, and to add– the designer came out with some hot OTK boots! I loved every bit of it!

We took over tons of pictures which we will be uploading to our Facebook fan page, so be sure to take a look and Natalie will also share the looks she loved from Miami Beach International Week — stay tuned!
